Staying on top of international payments

With violins in their London and New York show rooms and a multitude of international clients, the FX markets play an important part on their business model. Having to send and receive payments between our two international offices, this quickly became a time consuming and expensive process with their bank.

Making payments simple

“Caxton quickly understood the time consuming but simple payment needs of Florian. Our dedicated Caxton account manager helped and continues to help manage all of our international payments in a timely and cost-effective manner via their platform – a move that has made payments easier to facilitate and process, due to the different time zones and occasional out-of-hours payments.

“As a niche provider of a very specialised service, we pride ourselves on our level of detail when working to our clients’ requirements. And in the time that we have been using Caxton for our currency needs, we have found them to be the same”, said Joe Stupple, Director of US Operations.

He continued, “When dealing with multi-million pound transactions, we are safe in the knowledge that Caxton provides us with transparency, visibility, and efficiency when going to market – along with a friendly service that is echoed by their constant professionalism. With all the above taken into consideration, we look forward to continuing this relationship moving forward and would highly recommend other businesses to use their services.”
